IASA OPENS REGISTRATION FOR IASA Xchange™ 2026

Annual Conference Brings Insurance Professionals Together Around Risk, Resilience, and Reinvention

Malvern, Pa. (February 11, 2026) – The Insurance Accounting & Systems Association (IASA) has opened registration for IASA Xchange™ 2026, its annual conference and tradeshow for insurance professionals across accounting, finance, technology, risk management, and leadership. The event will take place June 7–9, 2026, in New Orleans.

Centered on the theme Risk, Resilience, and Reinvention, IASA Xchange 2026 brings together cross-functional insurance teams to discuss shared challenges, hear fresh perspectives, and gain practical insights they can apply immediately.

“IASA Xchange reflects the realities our organizations face today—constant change, evolving risk, and the need for stronger collaboration across teams,” said Rod Van Genderen, Chair of the 2025–2026 IASA Advisory Board. “This conference is designed to help insurance professionals step back, learn from one another, and return to their organizations better prepared for what’s ahead.”

A Conference Built for Collaboration

IASA Xchange™ offers a unique blend of education, peer exchange, and networking, with dedicated learning tracks that allow attendees to customize their experience. Educational tracks include:

- Accounting & Finance
- Technology
- Enterprise Risk Management (ERM)
- Professional Development
- Executive Leadership (OnPOINT)

Through CPE-eligible sessions, hands-on workshops, and interactive discussions, attendees will explore regulatory updates, emerging risks, leadership strategies, and the technologies shaping the future of insurance.

OnPOINT, IASA Xchange’s executive program, offers senior insurance leaders a focused experience featuring research-backed leadership development delivered in partnership with Admired Leadership®. “Building on the positive feedback from last year, OnPOINT brings executives together for specialized leadership training paired with an economic update and meaningful peer dialogue,” said Kim Nicholl-Keane, Executive Director of IASA. “It’s designed to help executives connect how they lead with the environment in which they operate.”

In addition to education, the conference features an active exhibition floor, structured and informal networking opportunities, and IASA business and ceremonial meetings, including the presentation of IASA Impact Awards.

Registration and Participation

IASA Xchange attracts 500+ insurance professionals and industry partners each year, providing exhibitors and sponsors the opportunity to connect with engaged decision-makers and influencers across insurance.

Whether attending individually or as part of a team, IASA Xchange™ 2026 equips insurance professionals at every career stage with the insights and tools needed to better prepare themselves and their organizations for what’s ahead.
